ARE YOU A STUDENT OR A YOUNG PROFESSIONAL LOOKING TO EXPAND YOUR NETWORK IN SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT?

This is your chance to rub shoulders with leading decision-makers, United Nations representatives, scientists, community leaders and other young professionals.

The Global Landscapes Forum Bonn, on Dec 1-2nd, is returning to the World Conference Center in Bonn, Germany. The GLF will bring an estimated 2,000 participants together right before the UN Climate Conference to move from “commitment to action” on climate change, food and livelihoods, and, ultimately, the creation of sustainable landscapes. Check out the 2017 GLF Bonn to get an idea of what to expect.

If you want to attend, now is your chance! In October, we are offering a limited number of tickets for 51 euros as an exclusive promotion for students and youth (under age 35)!

WHAT IS THE GLF?

The Global Landscapes Forum (GLF) is the world’s largest evidence-based multisectoral platform on landscapes and sustainable development. The GLF prides itself in being a movement that puts communities first in addressing landscape level issues. Sustainable landscapes are essential for the future we want: for food, wellbeing, biodiversity, business development, trade, climate regulation, energy, renewable materials and water.

Funding partners of the GLF include the World Bank, UN Environment, and the Center for International Forestry Research.
