

Global Landscapes Forum

Partnership Engagement

With core funding provided by the German government, the GLF is entering its next four-year phase, launching a movement of 1 billion people towards the creation of sustainable landscapes. In 2019, GLF partnership engagement will be instrumental in securing momentum to ensure agreements made at respective conferences bring us closer to meaningful climate action, as partnerships with the governments of France, Kenya, Peru, Indonesia and others have done so far.

The GLF builds collaborative efforts to accelerate the transition from a short-term engagement perspective to one that focuses on long-term partnerships for sustainable impact. The GLF partnership mandate includes mobilizing world leaders, scientists, policymakers, global media, the corporate and finance sectors, indigenous communities, youth and women's groups to accelerate action to build climate-resilient, equitable, prosperous and productive landscapes. It also involves building a community of practice to identify and solve key climate challenges while developing capacity through numerous learning opportunities.

GLF Charter membership offers an opportunity for interaction and the exchange of expertise with other charter members, including long-time partners, technology leaders, youth groups, media leaders, cultural and spiritual leaders as well as public figures.

The GLF network platform is effectively positioned to provide influence and direction for traditional investing and promotion of thought leadership, best practices and active engagement with the goal of positive systems change.

Benefits

- ✓ Engagement with investors, funds, corporations and other stakeholders through GLF global and regional conferences
- ✓ GLF Charter Membership
- ✓ Access to networks and experts, ensuring heightened visibility and time-sensitive insight into strategic decision-making on key issues
- ✓ Access to a valuable knowledge and information as a potential member of the GLF Knowledge Committee
- ✓ Access to GLF youth volunteers and relevant programs
- ✓ Policymaker and thought leader role on environmental and climate matters

We aspire to create a movement of one billion people acting collectively to create a sustainable world. Join us!

www.GlobalLandscapesForum.org

For more information about GLF Partnership Engagement, including the GLF Charter membership, please contact John Colmey (j.colmey@cgiar.org), GLF Managing Director.