GLF Biodiversity Conference: 'One World—One Health' 28 and 29 October 2020 from 9 a.m. Bonn (UTC/GMT+1)

WHAT: Halting biodiversity loss is essential to tackle the climate, food and global health crises, but how to turn ambitious green recovery pledges into concrete solutions that are feasible to implement and fund on a large scale? In the run-up to next year's global biodiversity talks in Kunming (China) and the UN Food Systems Summit, the GLF Biodiversity Digital Conference will bring together some of the world's most influential voices in the environmental, health and financial fields to propose specific pathways for recovery.

- The event will present new evidence and launch major reports on issues such as the reduction of disease spillover from wildlife to humans and the creation of a global standard on environmental health.
- It will offer a chance to explore hot topics at the heart of 2021 talks such as the spread of emerging diseases along wildlife value chains; the conservation of the Amazon; the transformation of food systems; the payment for ecosystem services; the future of protected areas in the wake of COVID-19, and China's role as the host of the 2021 Biodiversity talks.

WHEN/WHERE: Wednesday, October 28, and Thursday, October 29, starting at 9 a.m Bonn UTC/GMT +1. The full program is available here and the event will take place on the conference platform with selected content livecast on the GLF's social media platforms.

WHO: Elizabeth Mrema, Executive Secretary of the UN Convention on Biological Diversity, will open the conference. The event will go on to explore issues at the heart of the post-2020 Biodiversity framework as well as the UN Decade on Ecosystem Restoration, the 2021 UN Food Systems Summit and green recovery efforts from COVID-19.

GERMANY AT GLF BIODIVERSITY:

- German Development Institute: leading the session 'Protected areas in a post-COVID world', which aims to inform the upcoming IUCN World Conservation Congress and CBD COP-15
- Deutsche Gesellschaft für Internationale Zusammenarbeit (GIZ), as part of the Internationale Klimaschutzinitiative (IKI): leading the session 'Financial incentives for a biodiversity-friendly future – is green recovery a catalyzer?'
- The Crop Trust: the Bonn-based organization leads the session on agrobiodiversity 'Biodiversity for resilience'

Speakers across the two-day digital event include:

- Sir Robert Watson, Head of the scientific advisory group for the UNEP Global Assessments Synthesis Report. Former Chair of Intergovernmental Science-Policy Platform on Biodiversity and Ecosystem Services (IPBES) and the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC)
- Peter Daszak, President of EcoHealth Alliance. His research has been instrumental in identifying and predicting the origins and impact of emerging diseases
- Ma Jun, Director of the Institute of Public & Environmental Affairs (IPE), China's foremost environmental NGO.
- Shahid Naeem, Chair of the Department of Ecology, Evolution, and Environmental Biology at Columbia University and one of the world's most cited environmental researchers
- Philippe Mayaux, Head of sector Biodiversity and ecosystem services – Directorate General for International Cooperation and Development (DG DEVCO) of the European Commission
- Christiane Paulus, Director General, Nature Conservation and Sustainable Use of Natural Resources, German Ministry for Environment, Nature Conservation and Nuclear Safety (BMU)
- Carla Montesi, Director of the European Commission's Directorate General for Development and Cooperation
- Johan Rockström, Director of the Potsdam Institute for Climate Impact Research
- Stefan Schmitz, Executive Director of Crop Trust, Former Deputy Director-General and Commissioner for the 'One World- No Hunger Initiative' of BMZ
- Carole Dieschbourg, Minister for the Environment, Climate and Sustainable Development with the Luxembourg Government
- Ashok Sridharan, Mayor of Bonn and president of ICLEI – Local Governments for Sustainability
- Rodrigo A. Medellín, Co-Chair of the Bat Specialist Group of IUCN and Senior Professor of Ecology and Biodiversity at the National Autonomous University of Mexico
- Mark Plotkin, President of Amazon Conservation Team and ethnobotanist with decades of experience in Latin America's tropical forests. Author of 'Tales of a shaman's apprentice'
- Benki Piyãko, chief of the Ashaninka community leading efforts to halt deforestation and protect indigenous cultures in the Brazilian Amazon

- Melina Sakiyama, winner of the CBD's MIDORI Prize for Biodiversity 2020

Global launches include:

- New White Paper and Policy Brief: 'Build back Better in a post-COVID world - Reducing future wildlife-borne spillover of disease to humans'. The two publications provide guidance on how to tackle the drivers of zoonotic disease emergence and recommend ways to prevent, detect and respond to future outbreaks. Produced by the Sustainable Wildlife Management Programme, an OACPS and EU-funded initiative implemented by FAO, CIFOR, CIRAD and WCS.
- International journal: FAO announces the release of the new Unasylva edition 'Restoring the Earth: the next decade'. It provides an overview of the progress in forest and landscape restoration in the past decade, and outlines the actions needed —nationally, regionally and globally— to step up efforts in light of the UN Decade on Ecosystem Restoration 2021-2030.

Sessions will also cover:

- Key findings of the 2020 NYDF Assessment on extractive industries and infrastructure, to be released in November 2020.
- The World Bank: the ongoing work to develop a standard for environmental health, similar to existing one for human and animal health, as part of the One Health approach; insights from the new paper 'Finance for Nature' ; and the biodiversity-focused Amazon Sustainable Landscapes Program.

***To request interviews with GLF speakers and researchers whose work will be discussed in the launches, please message the contacts listed above*****

INSTRUCTIONS FOR JOINING: E-mail Gloria Vinyoles (g.vinyoles@cgiar.org) for an all-access media pass.
